Brothers charged with murder of Perdue

Phillip Roberts

Thomas Roberts

Phillip M. Roberts, 33, and Thomas A. Roberts, 38, both of south Monticello, surrendered themselves to authorities at 6:15 Friday afternoon, September 21, after murder warrants were issued on them that morning.

The brothers were wanted in connection to the death of James F. Perdue, 73, of Albany and are now in custody.

Police first responded to a residence on Perdue Road, near the Clinton/Wayne County line on Thursday, September 20.

According to a Kentucky State Police press release, Perdue was found dead at his residence by a friend at approximately 4:30 p.m.

KSP Detective Russell Decker is investigating the alledged murder and the investigation is ongoing.

Authorities issues warrants on the two suspects, and more than 24 hours passed before they were arrested, during which time the Kentucky State Police issued press releases, descriptions of the suspects and a description of the vehicle they were believed to be driving. That vehicle was described as a 2000 black Chevy pickup truck.

Included in the descriptions of the suspects was a warning that the men were believed to be armed and should be considered dangerous and should not be approached.

In an updated press release issued on Monday morning, it was noted that the two suspects had turned themselves in to Clinton County Sheriff Rick Riddle Friday evening. An earlier press release had noted that the time of the arrest had been about 6:15 p.m. central time.

According to a KSP press release, details of the investigation are not being released at this time, but the cause of death according to the preliminary autopsy results from the State Medical Examiner's office indicate that Perdue died as a result of blunt force injuries to the head, neck and chest area and multiple stab wounds.

Court deals with jail expenses, taping of meetings during meeting Tuesday

Clinton County Fiscal Court held a "call" meeting Tuesday morning with all members present and a lighter than usual agenda. The meeting became a special session when last week's regular meeting was cancelled due to the death of Circuit Judge Eddie C. Lovelace.

After voting to pay claims and bills, Director of Emergency Services Lonnie Scott presented the court with final costs for new consoles that had been purchased for the 911 Dispatch with a Homeland Security grant.

The grant amount was for $41,000 and the total cost of the equipment was $43,858, or just under $3,000 that the county would have to pay.

Initially, County Treasurer Dallas Sidwell said "we don't have the money" to cover the remaining $2,858 needed for the full purchase price. However, Scott noted the grant had been in the works for going on two years and the initial estimates for the equipment had gone up some.

Following a brief discussion, the court opted to transfer the remaining amount needed from the Occupational Tax Fund, which was approved during the treasurer's report (which also passed) and fund transfers.

Magistrate Charlene King questioned the amount of revenue that is now in the OT fund. Sidwell noted that after the transfers approved at the meeting, there would be around $24,000

CCHS could begin offering bass fishing in lineup of competitive sports activities

Fishing of any type, including bass fishing, has long been considered a sporting activity, but beginning this year, the Kentucky High School Athletic Association is allowing high schools in the state to adopt bass fishing as a competitive sport for males and females.

For the first time, the KHSAA will sponsor both regional and state competitions for high schools who have bass fishing teams and Clinton County High School may become one of those schools.

With the location between Dale Hollow and Lake Cumberland, it would only be natural that CCHS would offer the sport if enough things come together to form a bass fishing team, and, it seems that student interest is high.

During the regular meeting of the Clinton County Board of Education earlier this month, CCHS Principal Sheldon Harlan and Athletic Director Mike Beard explained to Superintendent Charlotte Bernard and members of the board about what it would take to implement bass fishing as a sport, referring primarily to a long list of frequently asked questions and answers supplied recently by the KHSAA about the sport.

Beard said a poll at the high school showed that over 70 students showed an interest in participating in the sport, if offered, and noted that even if just half of that number actually entered

Recent CCHS volleyball match doubles as fundraiser, over $2,200 raised for cancer research

The Clinton County Lady Volley Dawgs hosted its third annual "Diggin' for a Cure" volleyball game Thursday, September 13 at Lindle Castle Gymnasium against Barren Co.

Members of the volley ball team have been more than eager to host the game in order to raise money for a good cause.

Thursday night was no different as fans packed the stands wearing pink attire to show their support.

Before the game was played, both teams came together and stood on the floor in order to make a ribbon to symbolize breast cancer awareness.

"It went wonderful," Head Coach Pam Ostertag said. "It was the best year that we've had. We raised $1,118 for the Relay for Life."

Ostertag informed the NEWS last Tuesday morning that Beldens, a company in Monticello, has agreed to match what the Volley Dawgs raised, bringing the grand total to $2,236 raised for the Relay for Life.

Volley Dawg player Katie Choate suggested to Coach Ostertag to combine both teams and form a ribbon on the floor. With every player wearing pink shirts, it made for a nice gesture to those who have fought breast cancer.

"She had a photo of it on her phone and she showed it to me right before the game," Ostertag said. "That was the first I'd seen it and I think it turned out good."

Ostertag said her players look forward to this game every year and find inspiration in hosting this event.

"It inspires them to do it," Ostertag said. "They really like to help others. A good portion of the team spent time right after school up until game time making posters. They decorated the gym. I can't forget my parents ... they worked really hard at getting all the donated items, and running the booths in the lobby. They put a lot of time in it and I want to thank them."

During intermission, the crowd got involved in a serving contest. Members of the crowd came down to the floor and tried to win prizes by serving the ball across the net.

School board approves working budget

Clinton County Board of Education approved the 2012-13 year working budget and took care of some other routine matters at a special call meeting Tuesday morning, September 25 with all members present.

Superintendent Charlotte Bernard discussed the working budget, the final of three presented annually but the one that the district actually lives by throughout the fiscal year.

The total budget for the 2012-13 fiscal year is $10,737,747.55.

Bernard noted that although SEEK funds were up some, the amount in carryover funds was down, as well as other revenues in some areas, making for a tighter than usual budget.

The final budget, she noted, made up for some shortfalls from May projections. She also noted that some federal and state grant programs have ended and have not been refunded for this year.

In relation to the budget, the board also approved a BG-1 (Buildings and Grounds) fund transfer to the Capital Outlay fund to pay on the debt service.

In other items, the board:

* Approved Greg Wells as co-signer on checking accounts beginning September 25, 2012.

* Approved an overnight trip for the volleyball team to travel to Lexington to attend a UK (women's volleyball) game on Sunday, September 30.

Following regular business, Superintendent Bernard conducted a four-hour board work/training session prior to the meeting being adjourned.

The next regular meeting of the school board is scheduled for Monday, October 8 at 5 p.m. at the Central Office and is open to the general public.

Last ride past the Clinton County Courthouse

The hearse carrying the body of Circuit Court Judge Eddie C. Lovelace circled the Clinton County Courthouse Friday afternoon en route to the Memorial Hill Cemetery following funeral services at the Albany First Baptist Church. Lovelace passed away last Monday evening in Nashville due to complications following a stroke he suffered the previous week. Lovelace had served in some form of elected capacity for 46 years. Kentucky Governor Steve Beshear will appoint a circuit judge to fill the unexpired term of Judge Lovelace. A complete death notice for Eddie C. Lovelace appears this week on page 10.

Blach bear spotted in north Albany

The increasing number of bears in eastern and south central Kentucky has resulted in some bear sightings in Clinton County in recent years. It is believed that bears seen in Clinton County are migrating into south central Kentucky from the Big South Fork

National park in Tennessee. The nation's newest national park contains several thousand acres and is located primarily in Tennessee and a small portion in Kentucky. The part is about an hour's drive and 40 miles from Clinton County.

A black bear relocation program was begun in the park in 1996. Bears from the large population in the Great Smokey Mountains National Park were brought into Big South Fork.

Bears have been seen in Clinton County for the past two or three years. On Saturday, May 26, 2012, Memorial Day weekend, Susan Conner of North Albany spotted a bear from a second floor window walking through her yard about 6:00 a.m. Susan called downstairs for her husband, Luther C. "Hoppy" Conner, Jr., to look at the bear. The Connors live at the end of Conner Street behind the Albany Cemetery and Talbott Funeral Home. Conner saw the bear and told his wife to get a camera. Conner ran out the back door and around the house (on the opposite side from where the bear was) to the front yard, intending to distract the bear and to give his wife time to take the bear's picture. By the time he reached the front yard, the bear had crossed the front yard and was stepping on to their driveway at the end of Conner Street.

At that instant, a neighbor, Wayne Hickman's dog, began barking at the bear, and the bear turned and ran back across the side yard and disappeared into the woods behind the Albany United Church of the Nazarene. The bear was gone before Susan could get a picture. Wayne's wife, Shirley, was in her front yard, and she looked to see what her dog was barking at. She saw the bear running and Conner standing in his front yard. However, Shirley just saw the bear for an instant, and did not realize it was a bear until she later spoke with the Connors. The bear has not been seen again.

Black bears thrived in this area over 100 years ago; however, logging and over-hunting led to their disappearance.

Conner said the bear was young, but not full grown, and he estimated its weight at 200 pounds. Conner reported that the bear ran at a very fast pace, and that there is no way a person could out run it.

Residents are reminded that bears are protected by state and federal laws. Bears should not be fed. Pet food should be kept in a secure place and not left outside overnight. Household trash should be secured.

Conner, when asked if he had taken any security precautions since seeing the bear in his yard, replied, "Absolutely! I no longer take the trash out at night. I send my wife out with it."

“History Does Repeat Itself!”

In 1787, Alexander Tyler, a Scottish history professor at the University of Edinburgh, noticed a continuing pattern in the advance and decline of the world’s democracies.

“He stated then that a democracy would continue to exist until such time that the voters discover that they can literally vote themselves gifts from the public treasury. From the moment that revelation is made, the majority proceeds to vote for the candidates who promise the most benefits from the public treasury. The final result is that every democracy finally collapses due to loose fiscal policy. That collapse is always followed by a dictatorship.

“Tyler charted the ages of the world’s greatest civilizations from the beginning of history ... an average existence of about two hundred years. Every single time, these nations progressed through the following sequence: from bondage to spiritual faith; from spiritual faith to great courage; from courage to liberty; from liberty to abundance; from abundance to complacency; from complacency to apathy; from apathy to dependence; and finally from dependence back into bondage.”

“Let’s Get Mad And Slug It Out!”

Let’s Go Soul Winning

By the late Dr. Jack Hyles

Every week I like to tell you about some exciting experience of soul winning; maybe my own, maybe another’s. This week while I was preaching into my mind flashed an amazing incident that took place when I was a kid preacher in East Texas.

When I was a kid preacher in college pastoring a country church, we used to conduct street meetings. (Nobody ever has really gotten humble until he has conducted street meetings. If you ever think you are a good preacher, go out on the street corner, start preaching and see how many folks will come to hear you.) There were two of us. We couldn’t get a crowd. We tried everything to get a crowd. Believe it or not, one of us would sing and the other would preach. I would lead the singing one time (you might call it “singing”), and I would preach the next time (and when I would preach you might call it “preaching” too). Anyway, we tried to get a crowd. We were out in front of the Marshall Hotel. Nobody would stop to listen to us. We decided we would sing a duet. Well, that didn’t bring anybody in; that sent folks away. Finally I said to my preacher buddy, “Look, let’s draw a crowd!”

He said, “What do you mean?”

I said, “Let’s just get in a fight. Let’s get mad and slug each other. You get me down and I’ll get you down and we’ll just fight it out. I believe that way we can draw a crowd.” So I screamed and said, “Don’t you do that again!”

He said, “I will if I want to!”

I said, “One more word out of you and you are getting it right in the mouth!”

By that time a few folks started coming around. So I hit him; he hit me. We didn’t hit hard. We fell to the ground and started fighting. We gathered a crowd around. Then right when the crowd was the biggest I said to my buddy, “okay, now!”

We jumped up and started preaching. We had five people saved. I wouldn’t suggest you try that, but I can top that one.

The same year I was preaching in a brush arbor revival. Maybe you do not know what a brush arbor is. Basically it is wooden posts and a roof made with some brush. I mean, tree limbs, etc. are used to make a brush top. Actually you aren’t very protected if it rains, but it at least gives you a meeting place. I started out on Sunday night and didn’t have over four or five people present. Monday night I couldn’t get anybody. Tuesday night I couldn’t get anybody. Finally after almost a week of not drawing a crowd, it dawned on me. Why don’t I just set the thing on fire? It was getting dry anyway. I went out one night at service time and set the “church house” on fire; yes, I set the brush arbor on fire. I want you to know the flames went up high and the smoke was all over the neighborhood. The people got in their cars and drove to watch the fire. When they got there, I preached the Gospel and had two people saved!

I have thought about this so much in the last week. Maybe if we would start a fight in our churches we would get folks to come. If we fought the Devil, sin, nudity, dirty X-rated movies, the dirty liquor traffic, dope, the co-educational dormitories in our colleges and the wickedness and evil that is sapping and ruining this nation, I sort of think we could draw a crowd!

I will tell you something else too! You set the church on fire and you will draw a crowd. You can go out in any pasture you want and set and old barn on fire, and folks will come for miles to watch that barn burn. That’s exactly what John Wesley said, “I just set myself on fire and folks come to watch me while I burn.” God give us some preachers who fight, some preachers who are on fire and some churches who take a stand. These little mealy-mouthed, namby-pamby, go-easy, pink-tea-and-lemonade, rosewater churches won’t draw crowds. A church that will take a stand will draw a crowd!

You say, “Brother Hyles, what will I fight?”

Brother, if you can’t find anything to fight today, you are blind and deaf; either that or you are crazy! With all of the sin that is running rampant in this nation, God give us some preachers and churches on fire to fight the Devil. That’s the way you draw a crowd!

Clinton County Grand Jury returns several indictments; Dyer indicted for DUI

A Clinton County man under indictment for murder and other felony charges has had another indictment returned against him by a Clinton County Grand Jury, which convened in regular session last Monday, September 17.

Ira B. Dyer, III, who is charged in relation to a vehicle accident that claimed the life of an elderly Clinton County woman last spring and injuries to other passengers in the two vehicles involved, among other charges, was indicted on a sole count of DUI last week.

The indictment alleges that on or about April 17, 2011, the defendant operated a motor vehicle while the alcohol concentration in his blood or breath was 0.08 or more...or while he was under the influence of alcohol or when he was under the influence of any other substance or combination of substances which impaired his driving ability or while he was under the combined influence of alcohol and any other substance which impairs one’s driving ability, this being his first such offense within a five-year period.

The grand jury also handed down several other true bills in open Circuit Court last week, including:

- The alleged offense of flagrant nonsupport against Amy Angel, when on or about Feb. 27, 2008 through September 17, 2012, defendant failed to pay support for her minor child or children, said failure to pay having resulted in an arrearage of $15,765.53.

- The alleged offenses of criminal possession of a forged instrument, theft of identity and forgery-second degree, against Kristina Hall, when on or about August 14, the defendant uttered a social security card at Cash Express with the knowledge it was a forgery; without the consent of Mark D. Vaughn, used his social security number in an attempt to obtain financial gain from Cash Express; and altered a written instrument with the intent to deceive another.

- The alleged offenses of possession of a controlled substance-first degree (methamphetamine) and possession of drug paraphernalia, against Timothy R. Stapp, when on or about April 13 and July 13, the defendant possessed methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

- The alleged offense of flagrant nonsupport against David Vitatoo, when on or about June 3, 1998 to September 17, 2012, defendant failed to pay support for his minor child or children, said failure to pay having resulted in an arrearage of $15,765.53.

- The alleged offense of rape-second degree (five counts), against Timothy D. Thompson, when on or about August 15, 2011 through July 11, 2012, the defendant engaged in sexual intercourse with a minor under the age of 14 years.

- The alleged offense of flagrant nonsupport against Jeffery L. Clark, when on or about August 24, 2010 through September 17, 2012, defendant failed to provide support for his minor child or children, said failure having resulted in an arrearage of $4,116.15.

- The alleged offenses of possession of a controlled substance-first degree (methamphetamine) and possession of drug paraphernalia, against Travis S. Sloan, when on or about July 8, the defendant possessed methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

- The alleged offense of theft by unlawful taking or disposition against Connie Shelton, when on or about August 18, the defendant took or exercised control over truck racks, a cast iron kettle, eight plastic chairs, a come-a-long, a vice, log chains, bed and frame, boxes of pots and pans, and old time wrenches, the moveable property of Dennis and Patty Hickman...said property having a value of more than $500.

- The alleged offense of theft by unlawful taking or disposition against Mitchell Shelton, when on or about August 18, the defendant took or exercised control over truck racks, a cast iron kettle, eight plastic chairs, a come-a-long, a vice, log chains, bed and frame, boxes of pots and pans, and old time wrenches, the moveable property of Dennis and Patty Hickman...said property having a value of more than $500.

(Editor’s Note: An indictment is a statement of probable cause to believe an offense has been committed and further court proceedings are warranted. Those individuals named in an indictment are presumed innocent unless proven guilty in court.)

Got Drugs? Turn in your unused or expired medication for safe disposal during the National ‘Take Back’ Initiative

Kentucky State Police will partner with the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) on September 29, 2012 in a collaborative effort to remove potentially dangerous controlled substances from home medicine cabinets. Collection activities will take place from 10:00 a.m. through 2:00 p.m. in every KSP Post area across the state.

Sgt. Rick Saint-Blancard, spokesperson for KSP, advised that the program is designed to be easy for citizens and offered the following tips for those interested in participating:

- Participants may dispose of medication in its original container or by removing the medication from its container and disposing of it directly into the disposal box that will be located at the drop off site.
- All solid dosage pharmaceutical product and liquids in consumer containers may be accepted. Liquid products, such as cough syrup, should remain sealed in their original container. The depositor should ensure that the cap is tightly sealed to prevent leakage.

- Intra-venous solutions, injectibles, and syringes will not be accepted due to potential hazard posed by blood-borne pathogens.
- Illicit substances such as marijuana or methamphetamine are not a part of this initiative and should not be placed in collection containers.

For more information about the ‘Take Back’ program contact KSP at 502-782-1780 or visit the DEA website at http://www.deadiversion.usdoj.gov/drug_disposal/takeback/.

Fishing

the team, it would be a high number.

Both Beard and Harlan also noted that bass fishing would be an option for some students who currently aren't involved in any other organized sport at CCHS.

Beard noted his primary concern was the local interest and whether or not enough people in the community would furnish boats for students to participate in the sport and that is something school officials are apparently gauging at the current time.

Harlan and Beard addressed the board to basically explain the duties of a bass fishing coach but presented the board with the information that had been supplied about the sport from the KHSAA. Even that list will be updated as the new sport gets underway across the state.

Such questions as liability insurance, costs associated with the sport and other issues were discussed and is all detailed in the Q and A information supplied by the athletic association.

Both school officials also noted that although the actual described season would only be for a few weeks in the spring, primarily during the month of April, bass fishing teams at all the participating schools could compete in tournaments at any time throughout the school year.

To supply detailed information about the new sport, the following is the primary list of most frequently asked questions--and the answers--from the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

* Is the KHSAA now sponsoring a Bass Fishing championship?

Yes, in 2012-13, competition will be held in a single division, with appropriate assignments to regions once participation numbers are determined.

* With the KHSAA now sponsoring a Bass Fishing championship, does that make Bass

Fishing exactly the same as all other sports and activities within the school?

The management of individual teams within a school is a local decision. School administrators will decide about issues such as compensation, travel allowances and other benefits in compliance with federal, state and locally adopted policies. Nothing about the KHSAA adding this sport activity makes anything "automatic" within a school or school district.

* How is Bass Fishing going to be managed within the KHSAA?

The Commission will appoint an Assistant Commissioner to be the day-to-day liaison for Bass Fishing within the office. An Advisory Committee will also be appointed to help with the implementation and management of the championship.

* Where will all the rules be printed about the Bass Fishing championship?

Each August, the KHSAA produces its handbook, which includes Tournament Rules for all sports and sporting activities. When finalized, these rules will be published in the handbook, placed on the KHSAA website, and distributed to the member schools.

* How does a school get a boat?

Any volunteer your school administration finds acceptable may provide a boat. Each school will simply be responsible for ensuring there is a boat provided, with an adult driver. The boat owner shall provide proof of liability insurance or verification that the owner's homeowners insurance has provisions for boat coverage.

Additionally, The Bass Federation has numerous clubs across the state that have offered their services to the schools as have individuals from the B.A.S.S. Federation Nation. A list of these clubs and organizations as well as contact information will be posted on the KHSAA web site.

* Are there requirements for students?

Each student must possess a currently valid Kentucky fishing license and become a member of the Student Angler Federation. The fee is $25 and includes all necessary liability insurance.

* What about insurance for fishing?

Membership in the Student Angler Federation provides insurance coverage for all team activities throughout the membership term.

* Are there restrictions on the use of motor(s) or the speed of the boat?

No student will be allowed to operate the outboard motor of the boat. Either a student or the coach (or other permitted person if it is the boat owner) may operate the trolling motor. The boat must observe all posted state and local speed restrictions. If no such restrictions are in place, the speed limit shall be 35 miles per hour.

* What are the restrictions on actions by coaches during the competition?

The captain/coach of the boat may make suggestions but may not fish in any respect, including tying lures, netting fish, and handling fish or gear.

* What happens to the fish after competition?

The total weight for each of the five (5) fish limited to that boat will count for the team total of that tournament. All fish will be released immediately after weigh-in. Dead fish will have a 1/2 pound deduction and cannot count as the large fish for that boat.

* When is the first date of practice?

The first official date of practice for Bass Fishing will be 21 days prior to the regional competition for each school. This is solely to define a period for catastrophic insurance. There will not be a designated season for Bass Fishing. Team members and coaches may compete in other fishing tournaments throughout the year.

* What is the maximum number of Bass Fishing competitions?

There will be no maximum number of competitions as this sport will not have a specifically defined season due to constantly changing availability of fish in Kentucky's lakes, rivers and streams.

* When does the Bass Fishing season end?

The defined season ends for Bass Fishing with the State Championship. Team members and coaches may compete in other fishing competitions throughout the year.

* Will there be a limit on team size for Bass Fishing?

No. There are not team size limits in any KHSAA sport or sport activity. However, individual competitions will likely limit the number of competitors in a given division or within a defined competition area.

* Coaches requirements: All coaches must meet KHSAA Minimum Coaching Requirements including coach education requirements, Sports Safety and Concussion, KHSAA/NFHS Rules Clinic. This includes faculty and non-faculty coaches and any other individual involved in Bass Fishing--specific training and these individuals must be listed on the KHSAA Coaching Registry.

* Who will assign the judges for Region/State?

Judges/Officials will be assigned by the KHSAA.

* Who will train judges?

Judges will be trained by the KHSAA with the assistance of appropriate outside authorities.

* When will KHSAA Region Bass Fishing Competition be held?

Region competitions will be held during April of each year.

* What is the entry fee for region competition?

There is no entry fee to participate in the KHSAA competition.

* How will funds be divided from Region Competitions?

If there are any surplus funds from receipts at region competitions, funds from receipts shall be divided based upon agreement of the schools in the region. Should a written policy not be in place, they shall be divided evenly following expenses.

* What are the competition divisions for the Bass Fishing championships?

All competition will be in one division.

* Are there other safety requirements specifically for region and state competition?

All participants and boat drivers must wear a coast guard approved life jacket the entire time they are on the water. Protective eye wear is mandated for all participants in the boat, including the driver. All boats must go through a safety check prior to start of the tournament.

* Can a school enter multiple teams in the region competition?

Yes.

* What and who comprise a boat for the competition?

The two competing students and a coach meeting the qualification and designated by the member school comprise the boat for the tournament.

* When is the 2013 KHSAA State Bass Fishing Competition?

The State Competition will be held during the period of April 25 to April 28, hosted by Murray

State University and held at Land Between the Lakes.

* Who advances to State Competition?

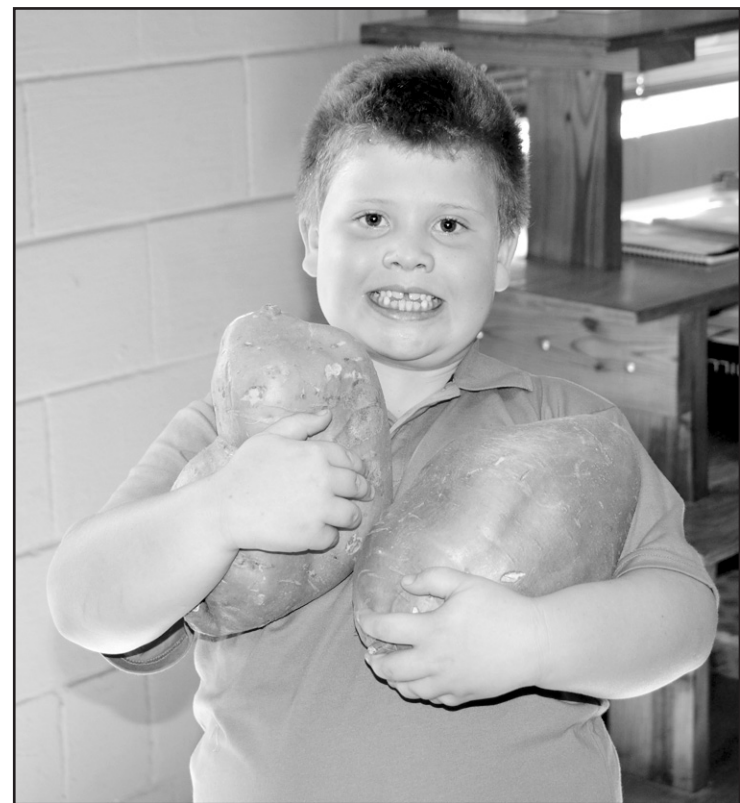

Qualification standards for the state tournament will be developed in the coming months and detailed on the KHSAA web site.

* Withdrawal from the State Competition.

Any school that participates in the region competition and then withdraws from the state competition after having qualified, will be ineligible to enter the region competition for a period of not less than two years.

The Clinton County Board of Education, after hearing the presentation from principal Harlan and athletic director Beard, are now considering the prospects of initiating Bass Fishing as a sport and possibly hiring a coach if they choose to begin a program locally. A decision may be made as early as the board's next regular meeting on October 8.

WAYNE CO. OUTLOOK Monticello

A second trial for Hope White was set to begin Monday in Wayne Circuit Court, but following a morning of motions before Circuit Judge Vernon Miniard, Jr., the proceeding was delayed.

Members of the circuit and district jury reported for duty on Monday morning but were excused until after lunch, while several other matters were considered.

Apparently, defense attorneys had requested a continuance in the case due to "unforeseen developments." Miniard granted the continuance and set the case for trial for February 28, 2013.

Jurors were excused from the case when they returned to the courtroom Monday afternoon.

White is charged with murder in connection with the July 2008 stabbing death of Julie Hicks Burchett. Burchett was found dead in her car on July 19, 2008. White was arrested approximately a year later and charged with the crime.

A local jury found White guilty of the charge in April 2010, but in December 2011, the Kentucky Supreme Court overturned the conviction and granted White a new trial.

The ruling stated that the trial court erred in White's case by denying her request for a jury instruction that included first degree manslaughter.

With the second trial date approaching, attorneys for White had entered a motion for change of venue, asking the case be re-tried in Russell County.

The motion was heard in Russell County on Wednesday, September 12 and was denied by Miniard.

The Wayne County Airport has received grant funding for fuel tax replacement and relocation. The local facility will receive $373,760 in Federal Aviation Administration funding, according to an announcement made last week by Governor Steve Beshear.

It was one of two projects awarded FAA funding. The Bluegrass Airport in Lexington received a $2.7 million grant to construct a new runway.

"Across the Commonwealth, our airports are invaluable assets for economic development, commerce and passenger travel," said Beshear. "Keeping our airports safe and up to date is vital to our economy and quality of life and FAA funding is indispensable for that purpose."

The project at the Wayne County Airport will include relocating existing fuel tanks between the terminal building and the aircraft parking area. The relocation includes replacing one of the fuel tanks that has reached its useful life.

The project will alleviate aircraft ground movement congestion during refueling operations.

The grant will also fund a runway obstruction study to identify obstructions in the Runway 03/21 approach and provide an estimated cost for future mitigation.

TIMES JOURNAL Russell Springs

A Russell Springs man apparently fell more than 70 feet to his death over the weekend just outside Jamestown, according to the Kentucky State Police.

Waylon G. Atchley, also known as Waylon Polston, 32, died from multiple injuries sustained in the accidental fall, according to preliminary autopsy results which were released last Monday afternoon.

Atchley's body was found at the bottom of Indian Cave Hill Road, just east of Jamestown late last Sunday morning, September 16.

Russell County Deputy Coroner Troy Harris pronounced Atchley dead shortly after noon

Sunday.

Detective Jamie Richard of the Kentucky State Police and Harris investigated the incident.

Dispatch contacted KSP at approximately 11:35 a.m. on Sunday in reference to a body being found at the bottom of Indian Cave Hill Road.

An autopsy was performed on Monday at the State Medical Examiner's office in Frankfort.

Toxicology results and a final autopsy report are pending but the death appears to be accidental in nature and no foul play is suspected.

Local and state law enforcement and fire officials worked the scene on Sunday.

Donning gloves and replete with all the trash bags they could use, volunteers gathered this past Saturday to take part in the annual effort to clean up the shores of Lake Cumberland in the 23rd annual Lake Cumberland Cleanup.

In all, 466 volunteers were able to gather a total of 1,818 bags of garbage and an amazing 447 tires, said event coordinator for the lake's west side, Debbie Schumann.

Overall the numbers are down a bit, but that's not necessarily a bad thing. Last year 570 volunteers were able to collect 2,118 bags of garbage.

"I guess it's a good thing, that there's just less trash out there, that we're getting more and more trash every year," Schumann said, meaning that as they pick up every year they're getting more of the older debris and more of the trash picked up truly from being deposited there last year.

"Just about all the groups did mention to me that it was harder to find the trash and the tires," said Schumann, "so that's a good thing."

The coordination of groups for the annual lake cleanup is led by The Friends of Lake Cumberland, formed in 1990 as a group of concerned citizens with a goal of maintaining the beauty of Lake Cumberland through removal of debris and litter along the shoreline.

Over that period of time, the group has collected, with the new numbers added, 91,372 bags of trash, 18,217 tires, and 11,483 volunteers.

That amount of tires alone, placed end to end, would reach almost nine miles, or reach from the Jamestown square to the intersection of Hwy. 127 and Hwy. 80 and halfway back to the Jamestown square.

After their day of hard work trolling the shorelines looking for trash from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., volunteers gathered at 3 p.m. for a reward of a cookout, prizes and appreciation at the State Park.

All volunteers and groups received a lot of appreciation for keeping the lake so clean, but noted that the first place small group winner actually collected the most trash.

The Danny Brown family has taken up the responsibility of cleaning up the lake for years, but their group fell just under the 16 members that would have made them a large group, and therefore the large group winner. Not that they do it for the $250 prize, because every year they donate the money right back to the Friends of Lake Cumberland.

Schumann, who has headed up the cleanup coordination since 2007, will be turning over the reins to someone else.

"I will continue to volunteer, but lucky for me Bernadette Leveridge sounds like she's very excited and willing and able to take over my major duties as coordinator, so I'm excited," said Schumann, who said she'd be there every step of the way to help Leveridge get comfortable with the highly coordinated event.

The Friends of Lake Cumberland could not put on such an event, vital to keeping the lake in pristine conditions which in turn keeps it as an inviting opportunity for tourists and locals alike, without the dedicated efforts not only of volunteers but also of the generous donations of money and equipment from a wide range of local businesses.

Schumann expressed that she and the Friends of Lake Cumberland want to thank everyone who made the 2012, 23rd annual Lake Cumberland Cleanup a success. Anyone interested in becoming a member or learning more about the organization, or want to make sure they get to help next year, please contact President Steve Syphas at 606-451-1402.

LIVINGSTON ENTERPRISE Livingston, TN

A woman was injured after a house fire three weeks ago.

On Tuesday, August 18, E-911 received a call of a house on fire at 826 Bilbrey Road. Randall and Cathy Harris owned the home. Cathy was home at the time of the fire broke out. She escaped the home with burns on her feet.

The home was a total loss. David Burchfield with the Fairgrounds Volunteer Fire Department said it was reported the fire started in the kitchen and spread quickly to other parts of the house. Cathy was in a different part of the house when the fire occurred. He added that the probable cause of the fire was a cooking object on the stove.

The house was fully engulfed by the time the Fairgrounds Fire Department arrived on the scene. A fire fighter from a different department was at a neighbor's house and used a garden hose to help keep the vinyl siding wall of that home cool so it didn't fall in.

Cathy was later admitted to the hospital for her injuries.

Gridiron Dawgs move to 0-6, drop first district game, 45-14

The Clinton County Bulldogs lost Friday night in its first district game of the season to Metcalfe County, 45-14.

The Bulldogs kept the game close in the first half and actually scored a touchdown in the second quarter to cut the lead to six points, 13-6.

During the next possession, Clinton County recovered a fumble on the 25 yard line and was unable to capitalize on the turnover by the Hornets.

"We have to put four quarters together," Head Coach Jamie Miller said. "We played well in the first half. We had a chance to go up 14-13, or tie it up ... or be down by one, 13-12. That's a whole different ball game. You never know what's going to happen with our guys or their guys."

Clinton County went into the locker room at halftime, down by 20 points, 26-6.

"I told my guys at halftime that we are still in the ball game," Miller said. "We came out in the third quarter flat. They came out and put it on us in the second half."

During past seasons, Miller said his team had been plagued with turnovers. This season, he said his team is getting better at holding on to the football.

"Turnovers are minimal," Miller said. "Our goal is to obviously have zero turnovers per game. We usually have one or two. Last year I think we averaged about five per game. This year, the most we've had is three. That's come way down. Tristan (Lehman) is finally seeing the passing game. I think that will be to our benefit in the stretch of the season. We still have to be able to execute."

This Friday night, Clinton County will host district rival Glasgow with kick off at 7 p.m.

"They've lost their last two games. I think Monroe County and Somerset beat them and both of them are pretty strong opponents," Miller said. "They are still going to be a very tough opponent for us and we are still not in their league yet, but we are going to go out and play the best we can. In order for us to win, we have to have a whole lot of things go right for us and a whole lot of things go wrong for them. If we go out and play with the desire and heart we need, then we will have some good things come out of this."

Miller said last season, Glasgow's first four plays against the Bulldogs were touchdowns.

"They were phenomenal last year," Miller said. "They have lost a few key guys ... they are still going to be strong."

Clinton County's next game will be the third of four straight home games this season and Clinton County will wrap up its home season on October 7 against Middletown, Ohio.

Miller said its good to have the home games when the weather isn't too cold, so it gives people a chance to come to the games and enjoy their Friday nights.

"It's nicer to have your more pleasant weather for home games," Miller said. "Having six home games is huge this year, not only for the program, but it's been good for the kids to not have to travel. They can get home at a decent hour on Friday night and take care of their bangs and bruises."

Golf season comes to an end

Dale Hollow Lake State Resort Park Golf Course was certainly in the "swing" of things this past weekend, and especially on Monday morning.

With the hosting Monday of the girl's regional golf tournament, the course was full throughout the weekend with area high school players getting in practice rounds, and on Monday morning, players from across the region, along with their coaches, parents and classmates, covered the course from one end to the other.

For our Lady Golf Dawgs, Monday's regional tournament was a season ending event, with Clinton County missing the cut for next week's state tournament in Bowling Green, both in the team and individual events.

Still, with the youth our Lady Golf Dawgs have on the roster this season, and the positive attitudes these young ladies have displayed this season, look for good things to come down the road.

Ansley Stalcup was the team's "elder" player as a sophomore, with five eighth graders and a seventh grader filling out the remainder of the roster for the Lady Golf Dawgs.

I've covered most of the home golf matches this season, and I'll have to say these girls were especially fun to watch and be around. Good season Coach Starnes - congrats to you and your girls.

Tuesday was the scheduled date for the Golf Dawgs to compete in regional tournament play - too late for this week's coverage - look for details in next week's sports.

Dog fight at Bulldog Field

The Gridiron Dawgs will be playing the third of a four-game home stand this Friday night when they play host to the 2A Glasgow Scotties at Bulldog Field.

Clinton County (0-6) is still looking for that elusive first win of the season, coming off of a 45-14 loss this past Friday night against District foe Metcalfe County (2-4).

Glasgow brings a 4-2 record to Clinton County, following the 20-0 loss the Scotties suffered this past Friday night at the hands of the Somerset Briarjumpers.

Kickoff for Friday night's dog fight is set for 7:00 p.m. Weather forecasts gives a 20 percent chance of showers, with temperatures expected to be hovering around 70 degrees at kickoff.

Inventor Rudolph Diesel vanishes

September 29, 1913

On this day in 1913, Rudolf Diesel, inventor of the engine that bears his name, disappeared from the steamship Dresden while traveling from Antwerp, Belgium to Harwick, England. On October 10, a Belgian sailor aboard a North Sea steamer spotted a body floating in the water; upon further investigation, it turned out that the body was Diesel's. There was, and still remains, a great deal of mystery surrounding his death. It was officially judged a suicide, but many people believed that Diesel was murdered.

Diesel patented a design for his engine on February 28, 1892 and called his invention a "compression ignition engine" that could burn any fuel and needed no ignition system. It ignited by introducing fuel into a cylinder full of air that had been compressed to an extremely high pressure and was extremely hot. By 1912, there were more than 70,000 diesel engines working around the world, mostly in factories and generators. Eventually, Diesel's engine would revolutionize the railroad industry; after World War II, trucks and buses also started using diesel-type engines that enabled them to carry heavy loads more economically.

At the time of Diesel's death, he was on his way to England to attend the ground breaking of a new diesel-engine plant, and to meet with the British Navy about installing his engine on their submarines. Conspiracy theories began almost immediately after his death, but it is more likely that Diesel did throw himself overboard. As it turns out, he was nearly broke, but the mystery will probably never be solved.

Gunman kills five students at Amish school

October 2, 2006

Charles Roberts enters the West Nickel Mines Amish School in Nickel Mines, Pennsylvania, where he fatally shoots five female students and wounds five more before turning his gun on himself and committing suicide.

Charles Carl Roberts, IV, a 32 year old milk truck driver from a nearby town, entered the one-room schoolhouse at around 10:30 a.m. armed with an arsenal of weapons, ammunition, tools, and other items including toilet paper that indicated he planned for the possibility of a long standoff. He forced the 15 boys and several women with infants inside the school to leave and made the 11 girls present line up against the blackboard. Police were contacted about the hostage situation at approximately 10:30 a.m. When they arrived at the schoolhouse a short time later, Roberts had barricaded the school doors with boards he had brought with him and tied up his hostages. Roberts spoke briefly with his wife by cell phone and said he was upset with God over the death of his baby daughter in 1997. He also told her he had molested two girls 20 years earlier and was having fantasies about molesting children again. At approximately 11 a.m., Roberts spoke with a 911 dispatcher and said if the police didn't leave he'd start shooting. Seconds after, he shot five of the students. When authorities stormed the schoolhouse, Roberts shot himself in the head.

Roberts, a father of three, had no criminal history or record of mental illness. Additionally, his family knew nothing about his claims that he had molested two young female relatives. The Amish Community, known for their religious devotion, as well as wearing traditional clothing and shunning certain modern conveniences, consoled Roberts' wife in the wake of the tragedy; some members even attended his funeral. Ten days after the shootings, the Amish tore down the schoolhouse and eventually built a new one nearby.

Another bear makes mistake of raiding Joe Sproul's ice box

Bears just keep raiding Joe Sprouls' ice box. Two summers ago, Sprouls, a chauffeur and cook for Col. Huston Whiteside of Hutchinson, Kansas, was widely publicized for his feat in dropping a huge bear with one shot from a .38 calibre pistol after he found the bear making off with a hunk of ham. Sprouls saw another bear in the back yard with a bowl of pancake batter between his legs. Once again he ran for his gun. "You might miss," said the Colonel, "then we would be in a jam." The colonel called an employee of State Game department, who tried to capture the bear alive. He later shot the bear but failed to kill it. Three more shots killed the bear after he had climbed a tree. "Deadeye" Sprouls is still worried. He thinks perhaps the mother of the two year old bear is still in the neighborhood. "I'm not going to that ice box again without I'm armed," he said.

Sprouls is the son of Mrs. Betty Sprouls of this county and a brother to Ed Sprouls and Mrs. J. A. "Dude" Miller.

Kentucky Facts and Trivia

Frederick Vinson who was born in Louisa, Kentucky served the United States in all three branches of government and was the most prominent member of the Vinson political family. In the legislative branch, he was an elected member of the United States House of Representatives for 12 years. In the executive branch, he was the Secretary of Treasury under President Harry S. Truman. In the judicial branch, he was the 13th Chief Justice of the United States, appointed by President Truman.

Although it has been written that Vinson was born in jail in Louisa, he actually was born in a red brick home in front of the Lawrence County Jail where his father was jailer. As a child he helped his father in the jail and made friends with prisoners who would remember his kindness.

He graduated from Kentucky Normal School in 1908 and attended Centre College, graduating at the top of his class. He became a lawyer in Louisa and first ran for and was elected to office as the City Attorney. He joined the Army World War I and upon his return was elected Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial District.

In his time on the Supreme Court, he wrote 77 opinions for the court and 13 dissents. His most dramatic dissent was when the court voided President Truman's seizure of the steel industry during a strike in a June 3, 1952 decision, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. v. Sawyer. His final public appearance at the court was when he read the decision not to review the conviction and death sentence of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. After Justice William O. Douglas granted a stay of execution to the Rosenbergs at the last moment, Chief Justice Vinson sent special flights out to bring vacationing justices back to Washington in order to ensure the execution of the Rosenbergs. The Vinson court also gained infamy for its refusal to hear the appeal of the Hollywood Ten in their 1947 Contempt of Congress charge. As a result, all ten would serve a year in jail for involving their First Amendment right of free association before the House Un-American Activities Committee. His court dealt with racial segregation, labor unions, communism, and loyalty oaths. As Chief Justice, he swore in Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower as Presidents.

Vinson died suddenly and unexpectedly from a heart attack early on the morning of September 8, 1953 at the age of 63 and is interred in Pinehill Cemetery in Louisa.

Beware of cyanide (prussic acid) poisoning

Dr. Ray Smith, UK Plant and Soil Sciences Dept.,
Dr. Cindy Gaskill and Dr. Michelle Arnold, UK Vet Diagnostic Lab

With the start of fall comes the risk of cyanide poisoning in ruminants. Cyanide, prussic acid, hydrogen cyanide or hydrocyanic acid poisoning are all terms describing the same condition. A number of common plants, including sudangrass, johnsongrass, sorghums and sorghum-sudangrass hybrids contain cyanogenic glycosides in the outer cells of the plant. Further inside the leaf tissue are the enzymes needed to convert these compounds to the cyanide poison. When the plant undergoes a stressful event such as cutting, wilting, freezing, drought, crushing, trampling, chewing or chopping, the plant cells rupture which allows the cyanogenic compounds and the enzymes to combine and produce hydrogen cyanide gas. Ruminants also have microflora in the rumen capable of converting the cyanogenic compounds in the plant into cyanide. The toxic gas goes to the bloodstream and blocks a necessary step in the release of oxygen. Clinical signs of cyanide poisoning can occur within minutes to hours after consuming the toxic forage. Usually the affected animals are found dead but, if observed early, may show rapid, difficult breathing, frothing at the mouth, muscle tremors, staggering and then collapse. The mucous membranes (such as the gums) are bright pink and the blood can be a bright cherry red color.

It is important to recognize and avoid situations in which these forages pose a danger to livestock. Cattle and other ruminants should only graze sorghum, sorghum hybrids, or johnsongrass when the plants have reached at least 18-24 inches in height. Do not graze plants with young tillers. Do not graze these plants during drought periods when growth is severely reduced or the plant is wilted or twisted and wait at least one week after rainfall to resume grazing. Do not graze at night when frost is likely. Frost allows conversion to hydrogen cyanide within the plant. Do not graze for two weeks after a non-killing (>28 degrees) frost. It is best not to allow ruminants to graze after a light frost as this is an extremely dangerous time and it may be several weeks before the cyanide potential subsides. Do not graze after a killing frost until plant material is completely dry and brown.

If a high cyanide is suspected in forages, do not graze or feed as green chop. If cut for hay, allow at least 72 hours or longer before baling so that the cyanide will dissipate. Allow thorough drying because toxicity can be retained in cool or moist weather. Delay feeding silage 6 to 8 weeks following ensiling.

If you have questions concerning testing for cyanide in forages, contact the Clinton County Extension Office by calling 387-5404.

Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Nine die on Kentucky roadways last week

Preliminary statistics* indicate that nine people died in nine separate crashes on Kentucky's roadways from Monday, Sept. 17 through Sunday, Sept. 23, 2012.

Five of the victims were traveling in motor vehicles and three were not wearing seat belts. One single fatality crash occurred in each of the following counties: Grant, Grayson, Jefferson, McCreary and Meade. The fatality in Jefferson County involved the use of alcohol.

One fatality was the result of a motorcycle crash in Jefferson County.

Two fatalities were the result of ATV crashes: one in Fayette County and one in Perry County. Both victims were not wearing helmets. The fatality in Perry County involved the use of alcohol.

One bicycle rider was killed in Daviess County.

Through Sept. 23, preliminary statistics* indicate that 523 people have lost their lives on Kentucky roadways during 2012. This is three more than reported for this time period in 2011. Of the 404 motor vehicle fatalities, 230 victims were not wearing seat belts. Of the 62 motorcycle fatalities, 32 were not wearing a helmet. Nine of the 10 ATV fatalities were not wearing a helmet. Forty-two pedestrians, one scooter/moped rider and four bicycle riders have been killed. A total of 92 fatalities have resulted from crashes involving the suspected use of alcohol.

Citizens can contribute to highway safety by reporting erratic drivers to the Kentucky State Police toll-free at 1-800-222-5555. Callers will remain anonymous and should give a description of the vehicle, location, direction of travel and license number if possible.

These statistics are still preliminary as KSP waits for all local law enforcement agencies throughout the state to report any crashes and fatalities that may have occurred in their areas.*
